Mobile Service: We Come to You

We know that it isn't always convenient or easy to gather up all of your fire extinguishers and move them from your place to ours, so we've made it possible for us to come to you! Mobile Service means we'll send a technician to your location to inspect the fire extinguishers and service them as needed. This works especially well for large industrial companies and for apartment complexes, because we'll walk through the property with you to make certain your extinguishers will work when they're needed. You can set up Mobile Service by calling our office to ask for an appointment, and we'll get someone out there as soon as we possibly can!

Fire Extinguisher Inspections

How often should you have my fire extinguishers maintained? According to NFPA 10 standards, your extinguishers should be inspected once a month so that they will function when they are needed. You can choose to have a maintenance person check them, or you can call us for a quote on our monthly service. The same standards require that fire extinguishers be inspected annually by a certified technician. Your annual tags expire at the end of the month—not the beginning—so you have plenty of time to schedule your maintenance and stay on top of your fire safety.
